SPARKLING WINE VILLA KRIM

Grapes, taken for champagnation is the "elite" of winemaking. The best wine materials made from absolutely healthy bunches of grapes collected at a strictly certain time, when you reach a strictly certain amount of sugar. Historically, the production has traditionally used such "champagne" varieties as Chardonnay, Aligote, Riesling and Sauvignon.

VIGNOBLES GONFRIER

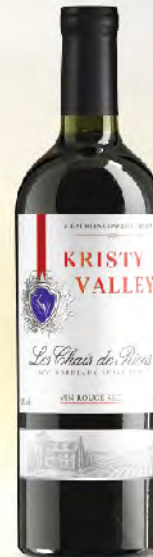

The estate's vineyards comprise 630 sloping hectares overlooking the Garonne on the river's right bank. These vines benefit from exceptional clayey-gravelly and clayey-limestone soils, a warm climate and southwestern exposure. This particular situation allows the Merlot, Cabernet Franc and Cabernet Sauvignon grape varieties to attain perfect maturity, producing dense, powerful and well-balanced red wines that are wonderfully delicate and age remarkably well.
